MORE AND MORE PEOPLE ARE CHOOSING A VEGAN DIET FOR THEIR DOGS

In the last decade, we've witnessed a radical transformation in dietary choices towards more sustainable and ethical diets, not just for ourselves but also for our beloved pets. Vegan dog food is gaining ground, with predictions indicating explosive growth in the coming years.

WHY THIS CHOICE?

Health

Vegan dog food is rich in nutrients and helps prevent allergies, obesity, and digestive problems.

Sustainability.

Producing vegan food requires fewer resources and reduces environmental impact compared to products from intensive animal farming.

Ethics

A significant number of pet owners are driven by the desire not to support industries that perpetrate animal exploitation, turning towards products that embody principles of respect for all living beings.

Innovation and availability of products

The creators of these foods put passion and commitment into meeting the needs of each dog, formulating diets that guarantee well-being and taste. Today, compared to a few years ago, it is much easier for our furry friends to find vegan products.
